NOTE: Not all items may be available all of the time, so sending us a priority list is recommended. There may also be extra items included, depending on their availability.

It is also worth noting that while this is a 'handling' collection, our resources are finite and we need them to last as long as possible. Please handle them carefully to allow them to be available for others.

Items must be checked back into the box and returned with the appropriate paperwork.

Enjoy!
